I have CP2 and the latest scripts installed and for some reason my taunts do not function anymore. That's about all I can tell at this point...

Some servers (such as BI) have disabled taunts.

The only thing I can think of is that you started turning Num Lock off. That'll make the numpad keys recognize arrows and page directions instead of numbers, and the taunts are bound to the number values. I've done that before and forgot about it by mistake.
