Were certain skins just added to the banned list? I opened renguard this morning and it wouldn't let me play due to several skins in my folder.

Yeah I've heard complaints from several people that certain .w3d files, which were exceptions before, give them trouble now as well.

I don't know why this was done without any notice, hopefully it's just a mistake someone made.

Bump + doublepost

Just want to know whether BHS is aware of this issue yet and when it's going to be fixed. I believe that there's only like 3 people that have access to that list anyhow, so this could take a while...

No changes have been made that I am aware of...I will see if I can find out more.

I've not noticed any problems with any of my skins

All my w3d files are being blocked, and I'm not the only one.

All w3d files have always been blocked. The only exception was the Volcano smoke removal, IIRC.
