Here's my obelisk skin. I just used a stainless steel pattern.

I put up a different picture. There's a nod interiors skin on game-maps.net that matches it very well.

Awful. It's just a really slapped on texture, the colors simply don't fit, and at first I thought it was at low detail level.

No, it's actually NOT better than the original. Firstly, it fits with Nod's color scheme. Secondly, black doesn't need much detail. It's just black. Normally, you don't need to add various details to make it look more metallic. However, with white, you certainly need to add details to it. If it's meant to be snow camo, then that's even WORSE.

I just cannot see it as a good skin.

I NEVER SAW THAT 0_0

New screenie is better, but the grid pattern is a bit of a putoff for me.

btw, Reborn's team made it! so now C&C Reborn is CHEATING CRAP??????? here my opinion, C&C Reborn and this doors for the win!

actually even Big heads are not considered advantage if EVERYONE uses them (don't try it lol) i mean if everyone has the advantage then all of the advantages cancel each ohter

You can't compare bigheads with it, thats clearly a advantage (cheat) and it looks ugly as hell LoL.
This doors just looks better altho you can see through them, but its not helping that much

di3 is right
i cant even see the mines sometimes with those doors, just put them closer to the door, no advantage anyways, your still going in to that building so how is it an advantage?
mabye if someone was stander there than yea but with mines i say no

So wallhack is no advantage as long as you cannot shoot through it, as you could go in the building and see what's in there anyway. Jeez...
