That'd be AMAZING if you could get some arties/MLRS's up there. Of course, they'd end up getting killed in 5 seconds by 1 havoc...

got a screenie of that on old comp, hill camping on wall fly .

Plus done a few buggy plus humvee fights on top of the mesa, who can stay on top longest by ramming others!

That was me (trans) and a0chicken under the name CRAYONSSS (hummer) back in September 2005 Man, I miss those days...

transcript if anyone cares
CRAYONSSS: one shot
havoc9826: : o (stupid forum auto smiley)
havoc9826: keep goni (typo)
CRAYONSSS: haaaand
havoc9826: YAY

Also, months before that, nfekti0n and Twisdid/Myzerygrl had managed to get a flame tank and a stank up there, but we weren't able to lift the mrls or arty. I still have those videos, but until I bother to get a YouTube account or my BC FTP portion gets restored, not much of my fraps collection's going up anywhere.

I remember Ghostshaw, StealtEye and me trying that a couple of times with a mammoth. We came pretty far, but it's rather hard coz you need to drive the mammoth tank as well, and that causes the weight to shift. Even without the weight shifting it's hard enough to fly 2 coffins in parallel...

Lunatic44 and I do it with Arty frequently... we're pretty good at it at this point. Really, the only obstacle are Orcas.

I remember doing this a long time ago. We had about 8 people in there and got some hummers and buggies up there and just raced around. Well basically we just tried to knock each other off
