we ported our mammy into ren to see what would happen, the mammy has more polys then every map, kinda sad and funny at the same time!

surprised it actually handles it very well

Wow, serious?

Combined (all the maps) or seperate (each map)?

sorry forgot some people dont have 25" monitors and there are more polys then each map...

separately! but then again our maps are roughly 50K - 1 million polys, so all the renegade maps, characters, and vehicles combined.... x 10!

Better pic?

The original mammoth tank is 990 triangles.
Volcano including buildings, is 7,367 triangles.
This mammoth tank is 14,783 triangles.

Most renegade assets use a 256x256 texture.

The largest renegade texture is 512x512.

This mammoth tank uses 6 2048x2048 textures. (2 diffuse, 2 normal, and 2 specular)

Use the [spoiler] tags on each image so that at least it doesn't affect the page for those with smaller monitors.

Posting this is a bad move. Not because of it beeing a show of but knowing the fact that RenX stuff can be used in renegade lateron... (And I dont think that is what RenX is aiming for)

Good job.

I made the thing, don't even try to claim it as yours. Martin-PC is what my computer uses for LAN too, because I guess we both have our computers named Martin.
