Here are some NOD base skins that I've made to match my GDI buildings. It changes them to a cool Black and Red scheme. It looks a lot better than the normal color NOD buildings.

UPDATE-Nod Skins2.zip Updates the roof of the power plant, airstrip roof and landing pad to a smoother looking texture instead of the busted up looking way it was before, and changes the turret cement from white to gray because it stuck out a bit too much.

These are actually pretty good.
1 thing I think you should change also is the tacky red paint on top of the Nod Power Plant.
It kinda sticks out and it is also the roof for the Airstrip.

Yeah, I didn't really mess with that at all. I'll see if I can try to make it match the other red better. If anyone has a color idea let me know and i'll make some new ones too. Oh yeah, does anyone know what .dds file the outside of the obelisk is? I have no clue
Edit- I've changed the top of the power plant/airstrip to a smoother/redder texture so it will match a little bit better.

I've Updated my last post with the screenshot of the new pp/air roof. I also noticed that the nod turret looks a little wierd (you can see it a little in the first pic behind the ob) because it is black on the bottom and white on the top. This download link will get you a new cement5.dds that is dark gray to match better with he black. You can download it right into your data folder because it isn't zipped. Also I've updated the first post with both new files in Nod Skins2.zip

Ahh, Yes it is! I already had it but for some reason it won't get 100% black so I'm gonna make mine red. Thanks!!

I know I have made many, but I want to work on my building making abilities. There are plenty of vehicle and character skins available for ren, but very few building skins. I'd like to change that.

Maybe try a baby blue and black combo, or whatever goes good with baby blue

Most building skins suck when just the colors are changed.

Where as with these ones I kinda like them, in this case though I think maybe adding a texture with low opacity or adding noise over the black to take the "new shine" off of it; would seal the deal in my opinion.

Thanks for the input guys! I'll start messing around with more stuff and see how things turn out. So far I have just left the textures in their original form because I'm lazy and I was satisfied with how they came out (being my first attempts at doing buildings). I'll start to try out some cool textures next!
