i play on a server titled aooooooooooooo (not exact amount of o's) 1. ppl that play there use a thing called renegade ressurection. i downloaded it even though i didn't know what the fuck it was. it turned out i entered into renegade through there, and that that was where you chose a server. but it didn't work. if anyone knows what it is, what it does, or how to use it, please speak up.

Its a simple Modification for Server & Client. You dont need it.
Only if you play on the RenCommunity Marathon Server.

It also seem to have some flaws though. It totally messed up the 'Extended Config.exe' by Sir Kane.

It also doesn't seem to work with customizations of the LOD budgets in your registry.

I think it's a very simple way to join servers. I like that you can easily change your name, but I wish there was some sort of password feature.

You don't need to use that list, afaik. You can have it launch renegade so you can use your normal list from there, I think.

The main reason some servers ask you to use it is because it contains some extra anti cheat measures.

pretty much if client and server use it all of the easily obtainable cheats are blocked / detected.

Don't install it if you play on servers that require RenGuard.

why not you can disable it and enable it, and you don't get banned for using RR on RG servers.

Just don't install it...easier that way.
