EDIT: Poll Moved to bellow... result 3"ok", 3"TERRIBLE!"

Hey, I am making my own website, <http://samous.webs.com> and would like to put a link to your site. Sense I don't see any banners or logos I could use that are specific to this site, I thought I should make one. The image bellow is what I have so far, what do you guys think? Good/Bad? Even if you guys say it is good, could I use it as a link to this site? Would that be allowed?

Tips and Suggestions Welcome.

=samous

EDIT: Image has transparency enabled, anywhere its black, it is actually transparent. If you see a bunch of grey around the image, then your browser does not support (Alpha channels?) transparency.

No offense intended but it looks like you have learned how to duplicate, rotate, and feather a selection and press the delete key. And have done it a few times. (including your signature)

Don't get me wrong, the "reflection technique" is and can be effective, but it's over done. Try to be a bit more creative.

Like? And BTW: Sig and the word Forum was made by a program, not Photoshop. Also, thats not feather, its shadow.

EDIT: I don't know what to do... there aren't verry many images specific to this forum...

Like? I'm not sure...as I'm not creating it.

Try not using the forum header maybe? As that itself is very dated. Build something simple, using different renders or maybe none and just text? As i said, i don't know. Be creative - that's up to you.

Creativity is not something I'm verry good at, nor am I an expert at making logos. My own website logo (new one, not uploaded yet) isn't even that good, but it is better than the one I have uploaded here. I have no real images I can use for this site, except the header, and basic 3d (or 2d) text is... boring. -yes, I consider my sig boring.

try getting used to these kind of tutorials, it will help you alot!

also if you arent good in making websites then do what most of us do, build your site using open source software like Joomla

I said I wasn't good at making logo, websites I can handle. My current one is WAYYYYYYY out of date, from back when I was first learn the html, thats why it sucks so bad, but the new one I'm working on now, its awesome -compared at least.

Thanks for the tut, but still, I need ideas for what to use...

The first one is pretty decent. I don't think it really needs to be fancy since these forums, or the original logo, aren't fancy at all. Simplicity is sometimes the best way to go

I always thought this was the official affiliate link:

But I couldn't find the image anywhere (in the last 5 minutes) but on the cnc reborn site.

Good to see you again Samous.
Both are excellent but there is something to be mentioned.

Both images have logos from C&C 3. Also the C&C 3 Orca is in the first image and Renegade-X flamer is in the second one.

These are things from different games and not C&C Renegade(the original, since Renegade X has its own website and forum).

Maybe replace the C&C 3 Orca with Renegade Orca.

Also its hard to see "Forum" in the second image.

I have tried and failed to get the FORUM from the second img more visible, and for the first img, I don't have any good quality images of an orca or flame tank so I used renders of ones out on Google image search. There is an orca and a flame tank in renegade, so its not completely inaccurate. Also, the GDI + NOD images I applied outer glow and inner shadow on to make them look better, but yes, I think they might be from CNC 3, does it matter?

-How do you write in that renegade font? Would anyone tell me? I have seen it done b4 by scrin (hes not going to tell though) and others...
