While "imitation is the sincerest form of flattery" and I don't mind you doing so of me, it would be nice if they didn't copy text off my site word-for-word without asking or even acknowledging me at the very least...

Also, nice disclaimer: http://www.brotherhood-server.net/forum/misc.php?do=cfrules Quote:I, under penalties of perjury and prosecution solemnly declare and agree I am not affiliated with any anti-cheating organizations, anti-cheating companies or anti-cheating persons.
Support cheaters huh?

nice you have all the same games we do more coincidental similarities....

i understand the obvious similarities it will have being the same forum template BUT,,, some things are a little odd, being from st0rm looking at your forums feels like looking at an alternate universe, i keep looking to see if there's a goofers, my alternate reality self yous are brand new and have ren steam crysis and ET servers up already just like st0rm, cool.....

http://www.st0rm.net/forum/Downloads.php http://www.brotherhood-server.net/forum/downloads.php skins/mods section similarity.... your forums say by popular demand etc just like ours but you don't have a member that's been part of your forums longer than 30 days,,,,MUST BE REAL POPULAR

if its a standard message that you can pick as part of the template i do give my apologies but still COPY!!!!!!!. i got a good laugh out of it none the less

GoodOneDriver, I'm quite fond of you, but I got to say, the copying of st0rm.net for that community spells phail.
Who ever thought of doing that was not thinking straight.
