I'd like to ask St0rm if we could play round 2 at 8 PM, rather than 9 PM. So one hour early.

We'd prefer to use an European server, but maybe you guys prefer to use an American one?
Please let us know.

No one objected to the time being an hour early, or at least no one voiced an opinion otherwise....We've decided however on playing on an American server. They don't like the idea of playing on a server across the seas. (Yes, I can see it from your perspective that you (most of you?) will be overseas playing on American servers, sorry. :/)

So, Saturday, September 26, 2009 at 8PM GMT it is on one of the US-hosted servers.

Maybe a ship would be a better choice?

It would lag more as the ship / heli would have to work via satellite .

We'll be playing on one of the official Nightma-hosted RGCT servers then.

Thanks for getting back at us.

It wouldn't be working via satellite since it'd actually fetch the cable from beneath the sea and plug in.

We'd like to postpone until tomorrow. I didn't take into account that BlackIntel's time.php doesn't take care of Daylight savings time which is what I go by for cross-timezone events.

Tomorrow at same time would be preferable...

EDIT: Roy645 is going to speak on behalf for St0rm from now on.

Hello. I'll be speaking on St0rm's behalf. Just let me know what's up, and I'll relay to my team. I apologize for the inconvenience that happened today.

I am not sure whether I can have a team by tonight. Already 3 of our members confirmed that they can NOT play tonight. If we have as many players as you have, we can play this match but I cannot promise anything.

However, even If you were wrong with time zones (happenens to me all the time tbh ), I doubt you had a team last night. We actually waited till 9pm british time just in case you would show up one hour later. I was in all tourney IRC channels while our team had public games on our server. We even checked your website, forums, public ren servers, teamspeak and IRC and found only one who even knew about the tourney :S

You seem to be saying that you had a team ready one hour late, while we both know this isn't true. Most of our players were still online one hour later and there wasn't a single St0rm player online.

If we'd play tonight, then at what time? Roy, can you add me on msn (see my profile for msn)?

I can't promise we'll have a lot of players online tonight, as we're already having trouble meeting the 10 player requirement. However, even if it's "only" 5v5 or 6v6, we'll play for fun .

We can't sit around EVERY SINGLE night waiting for you to finally show up, some of us have things to do. This is the second time you have agreed to a date and time and not shown up and it's really not fair on those of us who have actually rearranged our schedules to be available at the time of the matches. Get your act together or forfeit the match.

(NB: I am speaking on my own behalf and not on behalf of the clan, but I believe I am not the only one who is more than slightly annoyed by this.)

Hello.

On behalf of St0rmgaming, we are forfeiting, due to reasons I would not like to explain. >< I hope you all understand, and I am extremely sorry for wasting your evening by waiting for someone to show up when they don't even show up in the first place, and for that I apologize.
