Hi all,

Just wanted to say thanks to everyone that has kept renegade alive. I quit playing 6 years ago and just now started back up and am having a blast. I plan on buying copies of renegade for my friends now that I am back, most of them never heard of it, lol. Again, thanks for everyone at XWIS, and whoever else I need to thank for keeping renegade alive. I was so disappointed in c&c 4 I decided to try this again and I am glad I did. gday all, smoky CnC4 was awful, I was so utterly dissapointed with it.

You can blame this guy for it if you like, he's not the only person responsible, but he sure did have a large negative influence.
Sam Bass

Anyway, it's great that you've returned to Renegade, it's such an under rated game.

wow,

thanks for all the replies And your right reborn, 4 was a total failure imo. It would be ok if you had never played c&c or any other rts maybe, lol. I still play kanes wrath alot but never online, i am a turtle so its only comp stomps for me, lol.

I plan on getting a vent server and recruiting some of my friends if i can get them away from wow for a second, lol. To me, I have never had as much fun in a video game as having your friends in a apc, on vent or ts ,heading over to blow up their pp, lol.

Also, I own my own computer business which specializes in gaming rigs, so if anyone needs any hardware advice, help, or a opinion on what hardware to buy I will be glad to help in anyway I can.

Have a good week all, and thanks again for the warm welcome

If you want to give Ren a help, you could maybe give away renegade preinstalled on the rigs you sell, with a small link to our stickies for help on registering Renegade and such (a).

C&C4 was just a bad game. Regardless of what you were expecting from it if you played past C&C games... it just sucked on many levels.

Anyway, welcome back to Renegade.

Are you encouraging piracy Gozy? I do believe that is against the forum rules He would have to purchase a copy of the game for each rig he builds if he wanted to do that and give it away with the rig.

That's only like 5 ~ 10 dollars per rig. Doesn't influence his profit too much, so it is in fact very possible to advertise for the game that way.

I know im repeating what other members said but its hard to quit ren, such an addictive game, once you play it. Your going to get glued.

I realised im gonna get flamed for this.

True. I tried to quit playing renegade multiple times, but I can't! Every time I try to quit, I start playing again after a few months.

If he just came back.. then he should join a build server and try that new mode out. It would blow his pre-modded renegade mind

Nice to see more and more people coming back Don't thank XWIS, thanks BHS. It is Crimson/Blazer and the rest of BHS that have kept this game going (including keeping these official forums alive!).
