Morning all.

Nice work with the release of the public beta. However i am noticing a lot more ghosts recently and the client does seem to be a bit slower, could be my internet, it isn't the best as it is. However the problem i am having is that after playing for awhile the client crashes completly. I minimize to find a message saying that the game client is unable to continue to run in its normal state (SOmething like that, there was no error code or anything). Anyway i have uploaded the crash dump document within this post. Hope this comes in useful.

Go to the "My Documents" folder then to Renegade then Client then Debug and you should see a bunch of .dmp files. Grab the latest one and upload it (zip it up first)

The crashdump does unfortunately not give enough details to see what is going on. Can you please create an empty folder named "extended_crashdumps" in the location of the other .dmp file (My Documents/Renegade/Client/debug/"? When it crashes again, it will generate a much larger (couple 100 MB) crashdump which we can hopefully use to track down the real cause.

Please upload the file and send a link via PM, because it is possible that it contains personal info (e.g. xwis password).

Ok cheers for your help. Next time it crashes i will do so. Been playing a fair bit today, but smaller games and it has been very stable, will try on a busier server shortly
