ChatHistory=C_Key

If inserted in keys.cfg it causes "renegade error".

And how about them?

DiveForward_Primary=W_Key
DiveBackward_Primary=S_Key
DiveLeft_Primary=A_Key
DiveRight_Primary=D_Key

Stock Ren doesn't really make use of those, if people say building bars are a cheat I'm sure they'll say being able to roll is.

As a side note, if your position is set while rolling it really glitches out the client.

So what have you done?

Made the entry "ChatHistory=C_Key" in keys.cfg manually ?

Edit:

Now this works. Strange. Yesterday it caused an error during startup of ren several times.

Whenever you get a crash, please upload the corresponding crashdump file in My Documents/Renegade/Client/Debug.

The SelectNoWeapon key does. I already c4'd 5 vehicles with it because the driver thought I had no C4.

there we are.Thanks; it looks like you had an empty line or some line without an = sign, and the parser disliked that. Should be quite easy to fix, so we'll fix it for the next release.

Could you also fix that parser bug I reported before that causes the last key in the keys.cfg file to not be parsed if the keys.cfg doesn't end with a blank line?

I fixed the issue where the missing = will cause a crash.

The other one with the missing newline is difficult to fix without changing the file input code we use to parse keys.cfg

Wouldn't it be possible to add a newline at the end of the file if the file doesn't end with one?

Yes they do, you just have to update teh config.dat file in

C:\Users\USERNAME\Documents\Renegade\Client

However, I am noticing something odd instead of rolling, my char is doing the little ducks and dodges you see the ai doing in single player when you take shots at them. However, I suppose that is the way stock ren actually has always done it, and I was just playing a modded ren version that made you actually roll and stuff.

If that is a keys.cfg key, then the server has to be running scripts that'd switch you to be holding no weapon, if the server doesn't have that code in place the key will do nothing of course.

It works fine for me, holding shift makes my char walk, maybe the line in the config.dat file is blank or something?

Given how simple it is to just add a newline to the end of keys.cfg, we have decided not to try to fix the "the last line of keys.cfg is not read if it doesn't have a newline on the end" bug through code.
