Every now and again, my internet will be playing up. This is getting really annoying especially if Im on Xbox.

The router itself isnt even a year old, 8 months old be precised. Can anyone tell me whats been happening? I did the unplug router, same thing. Turned it off for a minute, same thing.

Any help? It is getting annoying

What do you mean by "playing up"? Are you losing connection, or is the router rebooting? What brand/model is it?

Every 5-10 minutes (even longer) the laptop will lose connection, my xbox will lose connection. As for what model it is, all I can do is show you what it looks like. On the back it says Netgear.

Have you tried checking for a firmware upgrade for the router? Also make sure its not got stuff packed in around it otherwise it could be overheating, routers need airflow too!

I've looked and updated any firmwares and that did the trick I really didn't know routers needed airflow .

Cheers for the help.
