two things

1. in the original "truth" thread, wilo's comments actually gave the impression that he thought more should be done about people like him. secondly, when i talked about the possibility of an XWIS ban, his only response was that it wouldn't affect him. he said nothing at all about it being undeserved, only that it would be toothless.

2. most of the comemnts about the situation i see from st0rm members, especially you MDK, speak as if wilo's actions and the renegade community and admins' response to wilo's actions are morally equivalent. please, if you want to be taken seriously, don't spout such drivel. you obviously have no idea how much this discredits you, but start getting an idea.

Again, I don't care who takes over. I don't want anything to do with the day-to-day running of it. I was just offering an alternative to help that community that is "suffering" because of their leader's stupidity and poor judgment.

His server keeps running and doesn't suddenly drop all players. Sounds a lot better for continuity sake than randomly crashing/emptying servers.

Also, this was a reaction to his actoins. Actions which damages the whole Renegade community. If uninformed players see that they get dropped from the game all the time then they are likely to at some point quit the game out of annoyance, not just the server.

Yes it's an harsh saction, but what do you suggest as alternative? Only viable option I see would be for wilo to step down, but that's not something that can be forced from outside the community.

Sadly, it is over. Even a dumb monkey will figure that Wilo won't just "step down" - he's on a constant power trip. The petition is pointless as the guidelines for st0rm to get unbanned is simply Wilo stepping down.

MDK..I don't know you ...but in all honesty you aren't helping anything by preaching to the choir...I am also sure st0rm is very thankful for your efforts but your attempts aren't.

I do give you props don't get me wrong.

My server's has been crashing constantly since I started hosting them in 2003, but doesn't bother me much as it doesn't take much to walk down a few steps and relaunch it, yea I lost tons of players but its not like I am paying anything to host the game either, unlike a few other servers. Nor will I ever complain about the fact that it gets hit. It happens...even right now for that matter.

Every community is going to have someone out there that doesn't like another one. HELL a lot of them here don't like me, so to his, his own. I'm not here to be liked, only to have fun. Your going to run into this with any game. Same with my BF3 and MW3 servers.

Do I feel that Wilo was wrong in doing what he done or the other people that participated? Of course, but this is just something that I have learned to deal with over the years of trying to support this game, which is becoming hard to do, its become a never ending segment in this community and I thought the soap As the World Turns was canceled... but I will remain dealing with it ...I've seen no other servers in the past being punished this harsh back in the day...idk why we start now, but that is only my opinion and I know that my opinion here doesn't mean shit. I mean hell...look how it was back in Fastc0nn aka Renstation.. Renbattle.. UN.. as well as my servers plus many others...no one helped. Only with a lets retaliate and hit the sumbitches back. Pointless.

I just started playing after a few years of walking away (no it was really due to being banned from UN because of my verbal mouth so the embarrassment entitled me too) and now appears I cannot due to the fact that I can't play in an empty server, I mean hell I may as well just go to my room and continue to play with myself.

It does hit a bit of a nerve in my backside that the St0rm server was booming one day and now I am lucky to see 6 ppl in-game.

As they say shit happens, but it would be NICE to see it populated again, I am not going to ask someone to step away from their own server ...its like asking Dogg to walk away from our marriage because hes too tired from working so much and doesn't give it up enough, just not going to happen.

If st0rm is to close its renegade server I won't lie, I'd be bummed, I'll hate to see it go ...but there is nothing any of us can do about it.

MDK, it's simple. Wilo steps down and st0rm can go back to it's business. That easy. He just doesn't want to because he's on this power-trip. It seems he's even enjoying this little drama-filled struggle, even though he's the one fueling it.

I don't know why you're relating real-world circumstances to a game, because they aren't really the same. The people that have played at jelly and other server that Wilo crashed their games FAR out-weigh the players at st0rm. And yet, you guys are saying that closing down st0rm servers for XWIS is affecting tons of st0rm players? What about the players at Jelly (which might I add again, FAR out-weigh st0rm players) that had COUNTLESS games crashed? Or, do you just choose not to acknowledge that fact?

St0rm doesn't have to shut down. Wilo steps down, it can (somewhat) go back to what it used to be. Until then, expect this. I don't know why so many people back Wilo up, knowing what he's done.. It's ridiculous.

There is no point in discussing this any further, People have said solid facts. You will NOT get through to anyone. Not since they have their mind set in such a way that there is no negotiation possible. It's best to just leave this matter alone and stop repeating ourselves over and over. It's not gonna change a thing, if people don't want to listen to reason, let them. It's but their own fault.

Everyone is hell bent on lets fire the torch at Wilo because hes a disgrace...blah blah blah. I am going to remain his friend either way so whatever happens to st0rm happens, I'd rather it be differently but oh well.

Honestly I don't even know all the facts that has lead up to this stupid shit as I didn't read all of the post Wilo made or that was made in the serverowners area and hell I even told him that if he wanted to crash my server he could do it all he wanted, not saying that it was him that was or still is doing it for that matter (IP states it not so not going to point fingers at anyone) because I am too use to this crap, as everyone else should be... I just have better things to do then just sit and torment someone and their community personally I don't really give a damn, I just wanna play the damn game...I am fine with it being on fagspy ...this has been going on in the Renegade Community since the beginning, pissed off server owners pissing on everyone's tree...and this stupid shit about everyone will just retaliate is just stupid on their part if they do ...whats it really going to prove? How much of a crybaby and coward they are.

EVERYONE just needs to talk it over by themselfe and leave everyone else out of it...but everyone feels they are bigger than the other person so that was a waste of my time typing.

Wilo has shown through years of abuse, time and time again, that Renegade as a whole is better off without him supporting st0rm means you support the rapid deaths of the remaining Renegade communities, especially any with more players than his why don't you listen to what everyone here is telling you: ask him to leave st0rm doesn't have to die, and if Wilo were out of the picture things could go back to normal and the XWIS ban would be lifted immediately

I once saw a great server vanish as we all have and we miss them even today . is actions was wrong yes he may be on a power trip but this can be said for almost all the server owners or admins . they all have done something like this. but never came out and owned up to it. I could name them but they would only say its untrue and then ban me in servers for saying such things .

do you really think that trying to push wilo out of his server or killing it will make him stop doing things like he has done...no fricken way dude he will just step up his game and have a small army of helpers behind him so the next attacks will not be 1 server owner and 3 admins it will be a lot of guys who are pissed of that you guys shut down there fun ren server .

you don't seem to understand; Renegade is like a restaurant, and one of the customers just started throwing punches at other customers entirely unprovoked and slamming their heads down on the dinner tables without reason the restaurant owners are throwing him out and barring him from the premises now you're saying that, because he got himself thrown out of the restaurant and his friends are no longer welcome back, he has a reason to attack and/or retaliate would you say that, if he fire-bombed and blew up the restaurant, that it's justified because the restaurant banned him for being a menace and threatening business?

the catch to all of this is that his friends are always welcome, as long as he's not present
...why don't you ask him to leave both the restaurant, its customers, and his friends alone so everyone can dine in peace?

still think he's the same as the rest of us, MDK? you're dealing with someone who has absolutely no fucking idea of right and wrong.

did you see the advice i gave him barely two days ago? it was pretty straightforward - no more ddosing and hacking and flooding, or threats to do so, or these e-attacks.

at first i thought that although he plainly doesn't know right from wrong, he might at least tone down his e-bullying in the interest of smoothing things over with the general renegade community. but it's much worse than that; he's positively trying to maintain his antagonistic relationship with the rest of renegade... at your expense, MDK. this is the contempt he holds you and the rest of the st0rm community in.

You forgot to mention his pathological lying. Everything he got accused of flooding Jelly on IRC while I was on he'd PM me telling he wasn't and asking me why nobody would believe him, of course that's before he admitted to the flooding, got some of his other community members to flood Jelly's server and threaten to put a video online showing how to flood Jelly.

he goes out of his way to make a scene, and then when people comment on it he claims everyone else is being dramatic when Wilo banned shaitan from IRC he made a topic on here just to humiliate him and even posted a picture of shaitan's mother pretty easy to see how that guy operates running 4.0 doesnt mean the owner can't cheat in other ways. giving yourself money/vehicles etc with server commands, without the opponent's knowledge and consent = cheating. indeed it's arguably worse than stuff like rgh

I realise this is far too late, but you guys seem to have this misleading sense of justice is served thinking when all you've really done is similar to shutting down a homeless shelter owned by someone who bombed other homeless shelters.

i highly doubt the people you're trying to punish care very much at all, considering they simply pulled the plug on the ren server that easily and happily announced they are gonna have a new beginning on other servers and actively encouraged people to go play minecraft or tf2.. so all you've punished are the people who enjoyed the gameplay at renegade storm server.

I also don't understand why there is all this hate for the people trying to play there... does playing there somehow create ddos attacks on other servers or something? Do we become mindless supporters of evil just by playing there? Clearly no lol. As a matter of fact, most of the players didn't even know this was going on until we were rudely awakened by the harassment of players from other servers calling us terrorists before the situation was explained to us, hardly seems like we were actively committing evil acts.

I'm not saying there are no bad people on storm, but this guilty by association way of thinking has got to stop. I sincerely hope this doesn't happen again for any future scandals, because this type of approach doesn't really punish or stop the ones responsible, it just brings down the number of ren players more.

sigh... i'm getting a little tired of hearing this crap

the reason wilo behaved the way he did for so long is very obviously because he was getting away with it for most of us, there are two reasons why we don't act like complete cunts.

1. innate sense of goodness
2. thoughts of consequences

most of us are human enough to have that innate sense of goodness; unfortunately some people are sociopaths, like wilo, and that's why society needs laws too.

nobody of importance in the general renegade community really wanted st0rm deleted entirely;

just wanted wilo to stop going so far out of his way to e-attack everyone. the only person who wanted st0rm deleted was wilo. he had the choice between "just stop being such a cunt" or deliberately aggravate the situation as much as he could, he made his choice and the ones who suffered are people like you. stop acting like it's anybody's fault but his that this is the outcome. open your eyes and learn to recognise your enemy when you see him, cos it isn't crimson, me, liquid... it's wilo.

yet at the same time a large majority of the people in charge apparently think everyone involved with storm storm is a ren terrorist or a supporter of said terrorism and try to punish them as well.. or at least harass them endlessly and insult their moral caliber in a "you're either with us or with the terrorists" type of tactic..

I said it many times and I'll say it again:

Yes, taking down st0rm servers off of XWIS has dropped the playercount (at this moment, they've taken their Ren servers down, anyway). However, if they really wanted to play at st0rm, they could just use GSA and direct connect through Renlist, RR, or RenIP or any other form of direct connect. St0rm players can still play on the server, if they were dedicated enough.

Here's the other side to this. Wilo made it near impossible for players to play at Jelly. His constant attacks on Jelly made it to where nobody could play a game. Now, leaving st0rm servers up on GSA was a grace for them; nobody was attacking them and they could still have players if their players wanted to connect via direct connect. Regardless of whether or not they were using DC or XWIS, Jelly players couldn't play.

I feel, a little, remorse for st0rm players. But, tbh, some part of me could care less because of what Wilo did to the other communities and how those players felt.

If you like Renegade as much as you probably do, you'll find another server to play in. Tbh, if you liked st0rm so much, you should have come up with a "useless" petition to remove Wilo from the throne of the st0rm community. If that happened, it's been stated numerous times that people would help out st0rm as long as Wilo is gone.

a petition to remove wilo would be utterly useless. There's no way he would agree lol. a petition to XWIS made more sense because we figured at least XWIS may try to be the bigger man.

and once again... just because we played at storm, doesn't mean we support the attacks or should be punished for it... i mean.. YOU played at storm too, you know many of the players weren't involved in the bombings... you shouldn't be caring less about the loss of the server because other players suffered worse. this is just misery shared between innocents while the culprit pretty much doesn't care.

and yea searching for that other renegade server now... >_> <_<

^^ Truth (@ Gohax)! Wilo had two very good options to keep his server on XWIS.

Option 1: Step down as admin and let someone else take it over.
Option 2: Don't attack other servers in the first damn place.

He chose to attack servers and didn't care about the consequences. Well, now the consequences are here. You want to blame someone, blame him.

firstly XWIS (if by that you mean the consensus that agreed with the sanctions) is the "bigger man" by several orders of magnitude, and you should be fucking embarrassed for implying otherwise.

secondly, what the petition should have said was what i was saying to him before the XWIS ban even happened, which was "just stop being such a cunt wilo, that's all you've got to do". if you all signed that, given how much damage WILO (not crimson, not liquid, not spoony) was doing to st0rm, then the best-case scenario is wilo finally realises what a destructive little boy he is and changes his ways. if he didn't take heed of that (which is probably the more likely, given his obvious mental problems), it would completely discredit him among his own community, make the st0rm players finally see what's obvious to the rest of us.

Quote:and once again... just because we played at storm, doesn't mean we support the attacks or should be punished for it...
cheer up then, because you haven't been punished for it. not by anyone here, that is.

sorry. I did not mean it that way. I meant we know XWIS is the bigger man by several orders of magnitude, so there was hope that they may just be that big to listen to a petition. I did not in any way mean that XWIS is on the same level as wilo.

I guess I'm a little disappointed to learn that st0rm has been taken off the xwis game listings, as I have never liked connecting to a renegade server via a 3rd party client.

I never used to like st0rm server, i always disliked how it was heavily modified.

Prior to scripts 4.0 release, i was on a break from renegade. I got sick of the lack of teamwork (which is what i miss in renegade from the early days) and people wanting to just arty whore all game, making every game the same.

I followed scripts 4.0 development, and when scripts 4.0 was released, st0rm was the only mainstream server to utilise them. So i decided to play there. Also wanting to play Fjords was appealing too. When i joined, i found that a lot of the stupid modifications were removed, a couple remained. But mods such as the veteran system proved to be fresh and fun during those long marathon games, and there actually was a lot of teamwork in the majority of games, with lots of good players. Games were highly enjoyable.

Now it's gone, I'm not sure what server to play in, namely one that uses scripts 4. Jelly has always been the alternative, but it's always been slightly laggy for me, and there seems to be alot of n00bs that arty whore all game, with little teamwork.

I have no care for all this drama...yes wilo is an ass for what he did, and i understand he has pissed off heaps of people. But it would seem some people here are getting angry at others that haven't done anything.

What i care for is just playing a good game of renegade, and i really think, especially renegade being 10 years old and how many of us are left, this entire community should really band together, and try and run things simultaneously. Not be so divided.

the response to wilo is a rare occasion of the general renegade community doing just that.

Then you'll enjoy Atomix AOW considering the mod that was ran on St0rm was my mod that was ran on Atomix before I shut it down. I re-opened it when I left st0rm. And also, we use scripts 4.0.

Jelly has its times where the noobs come out and play. Overall if you want something close to pure ren, it's either Jelly or noobstories.

That's what we're doing. We're all connected in some way. The only thing is we diversified ourself away from st0rm due to Wilo being the surrounding of it. If people really wanted to fix their issue, they would of voted Wilo off, he could of stepped down peacefully, or he shouldn't of fucked other people over in the first place.

i almost want to say that, if you really cared about st0rm, you'd do the obvious thing and try to get Wilo out of it st0rm would be far better off without him, as he's proven to be a remorseless, lying criminal st0rm would be welcomed back with open arms no one wants to see it leave, but we're not dealing with him anymore

if he were a moral, helpful individual that was known for his love of the game and helping others it might make sense to defend him, but since he's actually the exact opposite i can't say anything by doing nothing in regards to removing him you are basically defending him and allowing this to happen

We seriously might as well lock these topics because there are already a combined 40+ pages across multiple sites on the same issue. At this point, anyone from St0rm who wants "st0rm Renegade" to come back, talk to Wilo about stepping down. But i'm 100% sure that will NEVER happen, not to mention at this point, they're not even interested in Renegade at this point..

They have tried branching out to other games, it's hardly worth it. TF2 and MC were the only other things they had going for them.

Wilo won't step down. Him removing the Renegade section based off of "drama" he created

this from the guy who, upon reading wilo finally being forced to admit that he had been attacking other servers - after denying it for months and trying to frame other people for what he was doing - and his eventual admission was itself a pack of lies - when that happened, you said your level of respect for him went up.

then later when he carried on attacking other servers, and making the most cartoonish threats to people like crimson, despite the fact that his actions would be the death of st0rm (he himself made it clear he'd rather see st0rm die than stop doing the e-attacks), you kept saying the people who needed to modify their behaviour were wilo's victims. you even made weaselish threats yourself.

in a nutshell, get off your high horse. i honestly don't think that the reason you didn't say anything to wilo was because you were scared of him. don't worry, you're probably innocent of that charge; the real reason is worse than that.

And you say my English is bad...

All you really do is complain when things don't go your way, but I'd rather let the dead horse (ass in your case) to beat itself. This campaign of yours, is lame, you keep switching from "I are like it now" to, "I are hate it." Flip flop some more why don't you...

From the constant stream of babble that you think presents a good argument I'm having troubles making heads of tails from your steady stream of nonsensical banter.

"also if you read from the start you will see they have the hate and attack issues."

Pretty sure that was one of yours...

For the record, I would like to point out that there are still people living in England who can type correctly and apply grammatical rules to their prose. Unfortunately we appear to have become a minority group these days, the 'chavs' are taking over the country and destroying the English language.

I don't recall specifying any particular names in my post. I was just pointing out that a high proportion of the online population of England cannot use the written English language correctly, despite having being born and raised in this country. It's a truly sad state of affairs when there are a lot of foreign people for whom English is a second language, yet their written use of the language is significantly better than that of people who are (supposedly) English in the first place.

That's your internal IP, not your external one. Many thousands of people will have the exact same internal IP range on their home networks because that's what a lot of routers etc default to.

EDIT: Also, your dynamic IP is not as dynamic as you think it is. BT allocate IP addresses to your home network based on the cable termination point in their cabinet. Just because you reset your router doesn't mean you get a new one, they will just re-issue the same one already assigned to your phone line. If your router was switched off for a few hours you might get a new one because the lease on the IP allocation could expire and be given to someone else in the area, but your new one would still be in the same range as the previous one.

When I was burdened with the crash-o-matic (also known as the BT Home Hub) I often had to reboot my router several times a day to keep my internet connection working and my IP never changed because I was still on the same ADSL connection. Now that I have replaced the crash-o-matic I no longer need to reboot constantly to stay online, but on the odd occasions I do reboot it (ie: rearranging plugs etc) it still retains the same IP afterwards.

I'll say it slowly for you: jenson was myself, razgriz was GenOBrien. In that comment I said "put MDK as the name as well"...in the ban reason. Which I noticed he never did. That's how moderators ban search with ease, MDK.

If you're going to keep lying, then I'm going to look for more shit you've done. Preferably when you used other nicks. Shut up while you're mildly behind.

One thing about me MDK is, I've never once tampered with a log to suit my purposes. Anyone I've ever moderated with knows that, the truth is always more damning.

that also relates to a guy called cpjok

so I search and come up with a other ban on that guy from years ago

<http://www.st0rm.net/forum/showthread.php?3987-Banned&highlight=cpjok>

now some how either we have the same seriel ip range or something but think you will find this is the real cheat and nick faker.

now I know no one is going to take the time to check this out as hate is already ripe with you guys but I state clear for the record I have never cheated or download a cheat and this is either a lie or mistake. that strangely came about at a time I was in a big argument with a server owner and his buddys

At least you get the point. Your maps suck, have sucked, and will suck. I don't get why you're in the whole designing business, I saw a couple of your "design reels" and for what it's worth, in my honest opinion, you should leave it up to the professionals. Or, if you already consider yourself a "professional" - then leave it up to the people who know how to do it right.

I don't think I can do better, but i'm smart enough to realize what is fundamentally a decent map in a freggin video game. His maps aren't "cool", "fun", or even moderately competitive. Also, what is the point of having maps that have the same object placed a multitude of times that causes a seriously aging engine to start stressing no matter what one's system may be specc'd out to be?

Oh, whats this? Looks like even YOU think your maps suck (2lazy to quote from other topic) Animoskity wrote on Wed, 07 March 2012 22:23Hey guys I don't know anything about game engines and I can't do anything that I'm complaining about, but here's a half-assed idea of why I think something is wrong. Please accept my attempt at trolling and believe that it has to be trees causing the problem. It can't be anything else! All I can do is dick-ride someone else's overused joke. I'm funny, please pay attention to me!

As I posted somewhere else: I did some testing on my new system running a GTX 580, 16GB of RAM, etc, and there's something about the center of the level that causes the problem. It isn't the foliage that causes drops - I'll run 300 to 500 FPS looking anywhere but the center where the Ore Refinery and substation is, and that gives me about 90 frames. When I get my tools running again (and if I ever get any free time anymore), I'll look into removing the buildings and seeing if they're causing the issues. I'll try to boil down what's causing the slowdown since it seems to be more than just a simple "omg trees" or "omg waterfall" problem.

Sit tight for a while. It will take me some time to get this done, but I am attempting to spend some time during the week to finish up Noddingham so I can go back to Fjords. One of the things I'm planning to do is use Noddingham as a test bed to re-design some more gameplay issues in Fjords and bring it back to its C&C 1 roots as much as I can. I'm still finishing up the replacement buildings, so once that's done I'll be removing the Renegade buildings and putting in the C&C 1 buildings along with rebuilding Fjords from scratch... Hopefully that will avoid the frame rate problems.

For what it's worth, you really got that irritated with a level you don't have to play? Shit, when I load Hangnail Canyon, I always quit 9/10 times. I've played it since 2002... Why would I knowingly subject myself to something I hate? Likewise, why would you play my work since you seem to hate it so much? Are you a masochist or are you just retarded? Keep foamin', bro. Keep foamin'.

Just for the record: I've never played Fjords, nor do I know exactly how many maps you've made and which ones you've made. Nor do I care. I, however commend you on trying to make new maps for Renegade that breathe some fresh air in the game, for whatever it's worth anyways.

But, what i'm trying to say is: you're heading in the wrong direction. You're trying to make the game too balanced and in my opinion that throws off the competitiveness of the game, sounds stupid - yes, but I would love to throw you some map layout concepts and see if you can do anything with them then continuing to argue about Fjords anymore..

Is this a new approach in trolling? I like it, actually. It's very original. You go from being a complete retard to being constructive. Did my words have an effect or are you just fucking with me? Either way, bravo! I'm impressed, and I'm not being facetious.

Regarding Fjords, if you haven't played it... What makes you think you know anything about it? Go load it up and give it a run-through. Try it out before you shit on it. If you feel like shitting on it afterward, I can accept that. It would be nice to have an informed shit on my work, sort of like someone reading the newspaper before they pinch off a loaf.

You're welcome to throw any concepts you want at me. The problem is time. I work 40+ hours a week in military simulation development. Weekends are usually the only time I get to work on anything I enjoy creating, so if you want something made then send me a PM and I'll discuss the merits of it with you. If you want to keep fucking with me, I'm game for that too. If you think I'm being serious in any of my asshole responses, you have my sincere apologies/pity.

Believe what you want - i'm not trolling. You can say I jumped on the bandwagon and decided to shit on Fjords without even playing it. Sounds juvenile, even to me. But - from what I keep hearing it doesn't sound good, lol. I just know from a competitive standpoint: too much of anything can't be good. But i'll load it up, and i'd love to work with you in the future..

Yeah, funny how people respond rationally to rational statements.

The point of Fjords wasn't to make both sides identical. They have obvious strengths and weaknesses. Now that St0rm is gone, you probably won't get to see them in action. I remember 40 player games on Fjords which I enjoyed quite a bit. I know a lot of others did, too, otherwise the server would've emptied out.

There. Now someone has corrected your spelling too. At least for that one post. Anyone up to translate his other posts into English?

Your every post is a grammar nazi's wet dream. A large part of this topic is dedicated to comments about your spelling and grammar. Your typo rate stands out and you make long running sentences that make little sense because of the lack of symbols (.,;?!). Waste of time? I think that's just your way of saying you can't do it. I don't spent any extra time to make sure I type correctly. It takes me more time to spell something in gaming slang than to just type English, given the exceptions of a typo here and there *cough*chest*cough*.

I'm worth 4000 of you and what makes you think I have a hard-on for you? You're barking up the wrong, dare I say, tree.

I just like watching your squirm in your own shit you cause for yourself, it is really quite amusing to

Yes, partly. Just the whole fact that you conclude that from what is said here shows your narrow mindedness. It's the overall picture of you that reveals that, not just your poor spelling and grammar (understatement tbh). Ask anyone here; you come across as a blatant idiot who has trouble understanding things that go too far above simplicity level.

In your case I conclude it not just on spelling, but more the way you think, act, and reason. I think on page 8 you also showed how completely and utterly stupid you are by just going face first into that word trap I made, declaring yourself to be an imbecil. And in all honesty; if you don't get that one, you're just not very smart, period.
