Whenever I launch my game, it takes forever to load in most instances.

The game will open and I'll get a black screen with a rotating cursor for about 10 seconds (if in fullscreen mode) or a white screen with a rotating cursor (in windowed). The game will then connect to the server and then start loading the game which takes a strange amount of time, around 3-5 seconds.

It's not like I have a bad PC or anything, check my signature for specs.

Does anyone have any idea why the game is taking so damn long? I've tried changing all settings to lowest and turning Crossfire off, but nothing seems to alleviate the problem.

Yeah, 4.0 loads quite slowly for me as well (and I'm talking before it ever even gets to the loading screen, and THAT often takes up to thirty seconds or more).

However, my computer specs don't even come anywhere near yours, and I wouldn't be quick to blame my slow loading on 4.0 anyway.

I always play windowed, and I use Windows 7 Ultimate x64.

3-5 seconds is fine...
