that's amusing how that graph shows the kabbalistic tribe members to be the least autistic.

Just as I expected.

On February 8th, 2012, Kincaid mocked a proclaimed rape survivor on the social news site Reddit and was subsequently attacked by many members of the community. Kincaid reacted by deleting his Reddit account, but several screenshots of his comments were taken prior to their removal (shown below).

Some autistic people are atheists and some atheists are autistic... IRREFUTABLE SCIENTIFIC PROOF OF CAUSALITY!

Seriously... don't believe everything you read in the tabloids. They'll jump on any random bit of trivia for the sake of selling more dead trees to the gullible masses.

Treating the Daily Mail as a credible source of scientifically accurate information is like treating McDonalds as a provider of high quality food.

To bad the daily mail makes a mistake. It's not "atheist are more likely to be autistic" but "autistics are more likely to be atheist". It's a big difference.

I'm surprised the Daily Mail didn't just do a study that conclusively shows that Fedora wearers (and probably users) are autistic atheists.
