I don't understand why you faggots keep promoting your server no one plays on?

I mean I'm an e-janitor and developer for a server which regularly has 300+ players on and you see me spamming every forum about it.

Get a life, nerds.

The Marathon server is a persistent game (well, for a map anyway) with 50 players in the game, you're an "e-janitor" of a matchmaking server for C&C RTS', which is NOT persistent, and the games are completely compartmentalized from each other.

try again iran

Exactly so I can't just join a game and figure out the issue and who's at fault. I need to investigate and check things out myself. Very tedious stuff. Like people using cheat maps LO!L

But then again there's an actual player base and not a team of dripping retards trying to janitor things.

But seriously...get a life no one cares
