Well, this is my first ever farewell message for ANY community EVER.

Since the official Renegade boards closed and westwood shut an all, I've been drifting into Generals. For the last few days I've been trying to get back into Renegade, but it was quickly made apparent that I wasn't wanted.

There are some people out there who do work hard to make this a good community. But then there are some who seem to get kicks out of spoiling that and making everyone else's time miserable.

This community is dying, fast, and I dont have to put up with that shit.

With that said, I'm leaving and going to Generals. The Generals community is much more welcome. People actually help people to the best of their ability, instead of flaming them or telling them "to do a forum search" because they can't be arsed to give some handy links or advice. Flaming is practically non-existent in the Generals community, which is why mods develop faster, more and better skins come out, ect. The nicer environment encourages the harder work being put in by much more people.

It puts meaning on the phrase "I'm going to a better place".

I tried to fit in. I tried to help people. But to many decided to stand in my way with unlimited ammo flamethrowers.

Bye Renegade community. I'll still be playing the game occasionally, but nothing more.
Have a good life, for those of you who have one.

Sincerely, unregrettably,

Luke Morgan - aka killakanz

PS: You can flame me as much as you want, I dont care. Besides, I'm not commin back to read it so wahey! What's the point?

The Renegade community isn't going anywhere. It's slowly but surely getting back up on its feet. We got a ton of killer mods on the way. (RenAlert, Reborn, E:BFD... I hope) People are still making maps for the game. And most importantly is, Renegade Evolutions. Dante and his crew over there are gonna get Renegade better than what it is now. If RenEvo doesn't help Renegade, nothing will.

It's like, the community would have been a better place without ack. All the other modders may have made more mods and maps without ack's constant criticism. Ack's maps are all pretty much crap, plain and simple. He goes for quantity over quality. I mean look at glacier. The fact is, I think some of these other modders would have developed their skills and done bigger and greater things if they hadn't felt threatened by Ack. He thinks he's the supreme renegade map maker. Well I tell ya what ack, if that's your goal in life than congratu-f*cking-lations. You've put out more sh!tty maps than all other modders combined. Your grand prize: you can suck on my nuts.

Sounds like killakanz signing up a new name so he doesn't have to use his old one to come back again and look like a fool.

Please prove I ripped music from games... The only one I took any music from was Ace Combat 3 and I legally own it, bought it two years ago at the Wal-Mart in Apopka, Central Florida, for $49.95.

I have never seen anyone tell anyone else who was asking for help on these boards (including the old ones) to "do a forum search".

Flaming non-existent in the Generals boards? Are you kidding? That board is full of pre-pubescent little kids, flaming is quite rampant over there.

Lol... A little crying babby who's throwing a tantrum in the corner comes to mind...

You say the dumbest thing, "Posting about your mod or about the release of your mod in the mod forum is against the rules", and get all pissy and throw a little tantrum and claim to "leave the community" because you get a couple replies to your moronic comment that don't agree with it/you.

If there were no fans there would be no reason for the setting up of the renegade forums, we/you need these fans to keep renegade alive if the non-contributors left and we were left with the names above in the whole community, we'll you see what i'm getting at..... not much of a community is it.

You may not be concerned about 'non-contributors' leaving but the rest of the community is. You are only damaging the community even further by you thought less comments.

These fans are the ones that wished you a happy birthday not so long ago 2 pages + of "happy birthday ACK happy birthday thank for all your hard work we really appreciate it" (which no one disputes that you dont do) and you slam it back in there faces! like this!

If you want to work in the Entertainments Industry, stop wasting you time abusing the community that likes and supports your work!! (of course there is always one/a few bad apple(s), but hey thats life)

If the definition of a n00b is the way Crimson say it is on the n00bstories home page you are the biggest n00b of all!!!! as you are hindering the team (renegade community) in there goal to create a fun an vibrant community.

The funny part is you are so wrong and you cant even see it, let alone admit it. The actual truth is, every member makes up the community, not just those who you see fit to be a part of it. The vast majority of the community is made up of players and people with lessor skills than you, and without them there would be no community. There wouldn't even be a game because they would have sold enough copies to pay the programmers and the developers. Then where you be? It's like having a government without people to govern. Oh yea, a contribution to the community can be as simple as playing or having a server. Ravens has had a big server up. Thats a big contribution. I had my presence in the game, which nor staying modest, I like to beleive in the sumemr holidays, I made an effect on people, mostly positive, and gave other people a chance to have a new friend as well as me. (In sumer, Devshouse was filled with mostly the same players all 2 months. We were like our own mini-commity.) The mere pressence of someone is a contribution becasue the more who play ren, the longer community lasts.

People actually help people to the best of their ability, instead of flaming them or telling them "to do a forum search" because they can't be arsed to give some handy links or advice. Flaming is practically non-existent in the Generals community, which is why mods develop faster, more and better skins come out, ect. The nicer environment encourages the harder work being put in by much more people.

It puts meaning on the phrase "I'm going to a better place".

I tried to fit in. I tried to help people. But to many decided to stand in my way with unlimited ammo flamethrowers.

Bye Renegade community. I'll still be playing the game occasionally, but nothing more.
Have a good life, for those of you who have one.

Sincerely, unregrettably,

Luke Morgan - aka killakanz

here,

Quote:It's like, the community would have been a better place without ack. All the other modders may have made more mods and maps without ack's constant criticism.

here,

Quote:Slaps ACK around with a Pink Fuzzy Mac

(ok so that was just funny)

here,

Quote:Oh for * sake Ack, thats the sort of people he is talking about, are u blind or just incredibly incredibly stupid? or both?

here,

Quote:Killing the Renegade community 1 member at a time.
Its seems you plan is really coming together. Nice work!

here, Quote:I was referring the members who belittled and berated this guy to leave the community.

Maybe you have a guilty conscience or something.

(note: this is refering to behaviour that is reducing the community not you in person, not everyone is anti ACK, I for one admire your work but voicing your oppinions is damaging the community, do you really only care about getting a job in this industry and not of the community? because that is how it seems)

(do you have a guilty conscience? twice people have refered to a 'type of behavior' that is affecting the community and you instantly take it as an attack on you?!?!?)

And asside

Quote:

couldn't this be a comment also refering to Vegito's (think that is his name) constant slamming of your work?? again Quote:Maybe you have a guilty conscience or something

So unless you want to be making maps and playing renegade online with a very small community, please change your ways.

I'm sure it would bother most other members of the renegade community if the community died, because of certain..... behaviours :rolleyes:

And because you didn't dispute it and you called me a Quote:chief have this again Quote:If the definition of a n00b is the way Crimson say it is on the n00bstories home page you are the biggest n00b of all!!!! as you are hindering the team (renegade community) in there goal to create a fun an vibrant community.

One last thing Quote:Do what you want, speak how you want, It bothers me not your just a bit of text on my VDU :rolleyes: it is effecting the community not my personal wellbeing

(man, quoteing is fun)

This is the only thing worth responding to out of the rest of your babbling diatribe.

If my opinions damage the community, then this community isn't very strong and I honestly couldn't give a fuck, at that point. If they let one person who freely says what he thinks destroy their community, then it's a community of pussy little kids.

Guilty conscience because I take an attack on myself as being what it really is? Come on now, champ - you should know that twisting stuff around doesn't work with me. You know they wrote their replies with the intention of attacking me, and I defended myself. Simple as that.

A bunch of smiley "faces" and loads of quotes do not make an argument, nor do they make a real flame. Try again.

It's really sad the community to be like this... but you guys have to think it's not just ACK who does these things. It's the big mouths of the community as well. It's comments like ACK's that destroys a person, YES. And I would agree that ACK is most of the time... a shit head. But it's not just him... there are a lot of people.

When people keep insulting someone who's a real noob. They put up so much of this noobness... that it isn't even funny. When someone make another map, insulted... someone just learning how to play, insulted... someone make a comment, so very insulted and maybe threatend as well... do I make sense?

So I beg you... the community... think first before you type it here. Be sensitive to other people even if they are noobs. If you guys want to put down the community by all means continue with your bashing. But if you want to put more people in... to encourage new people here... for the community to grow. Please, no, I beg you... consider what you are typing here. A lot of people take it seriously... if you want to be respected then respect others.

You do realize you contradicted yourself by insulting me in that first paragraph.

Way to go, yet another case of flawed logic. You can't even support your own beliefs without tripping over yourself in the process.

Kinda off-topic info but anyways:

There is this thing called Linux Live that you can download and the burn to a CD. You can then use this CD when booting your system and Linux will automatically load from it. It doesn't save anything to your hard drive, so you can safely use it. If you want to quit just Reboot without the CD and your default OS will load normally. Good for those who want to test Linux.

F&^KING %HIT. It's comments like that which takes people away. Do you have a personality problem? How come you just insult people like that? Maybe you just needed attention... doesn't your parents give you enough attention or maybe they don't?

And I didn't contradict myself... even if your belief that the statement was an insult to you. You can't take ANYONE's comments or opinion at all. That statement was NOT and nor was it INTENDED to be an attack at you... it was intended for all of us in the community. And it was also F&8KING meant for the whole message to be read. Looks like someone is really guilty...

HellweedAircraftkiller! I'm glad you speak for me. Who appointed you to that position again?

belittled and berated this guy to leave the community.

If I am wrong at this:

Natelt's really sad the community to be like this... but you guys have to think it's not just ACK who does these things. It's the big mouths of the community as well. Please, no, I beg you... consider what you are typing here. A lot of people take it seriously... if you want to be respected then respect others.

Then let the community place judgement... I will not be moved by some guy who has personality problems and thinks everybody than themselves makes a community and doesn't give a F&(K for other people at all. I am so very tired of seeing this SHIT over and over again.

To people who think they are higher than everybody just because they have map making gift and others don't because they have OTHER gifts, I don't give a F&(K about your opinion or logic. I will be who I am... to myself and be myself... in any life Virtual or Real.

Noob or not, I don't give a SHIT when it comes to people who are SHITS THEMSELVES TO OTHER PEOPLE. You can say whatever you want to think whatever you think. I will still not be moved...

Natel am so very tired of seeing this SHIT over and over again.

Then stop reading it. And if you do happen to come across it, don't respond to it like you seem to be compelled to do. It's that simple. If all else fails, stop coming here if you don't like what you see.
