I've been looking over all of the PT icons in the avatar gallery and I was wondering where they came from, specifically the Kane with the Railgun PT icon. I believe it was Taximes, but does anyone else know where I can get these icons in their "raw" form?

I think I saw them in the always.dat. so just Xtract them from the always.dat file.

I made all the ones that are under my name in the Avatar gallery, and I made the backgrounds for the Civilian, Mutant, and Extra characters.

What do you mean "raw" form? I never got around to converting them all to .tga if that's what you mean, I just saved them as .jpg when I uploaded them for people to see.

If you wanted to use a few, it shouldn't be a problem to just save it as .tga in a photoediting program and rename it as necessary.

Well, they are only 80x80 resolution, whereas the HUD icons are 128x128. That's probably what was meant by "raw" form.

don`t do that again, your scaring me.

Why?

And great work Halo, although I seem to always have to disable my firewall before visiting any Pitts link. :-\
