Try RTCW: Enemy Territory, its much better

http://www.fileplanet.com/files/120000/124800.shtml

If your on a slow connection, believe me, ITS WORTH THE DOWNLOAD!

You dont need to pay, just sign up on http://www.gamespy.com or something then use that as your login. Btw, make sure you use the downloads on the bottom of the page (ones at the top are for payers only)

I have CS, but I rarely play it. I play it like once or twice a month for 10 minutes. It's fun, but then it gets really old, really fast.

You buy your weapons.
You die.
You buy your weapons.
You win.
You buy your weapons.

you die.
you buy your weapons.
You win.

Talk about repedative.

I play CS but hate it afterwards when I play other games and mods cause it rots the skills. I played day of defeat after palying CS for 2 months and I totaly freaked when I used an STG 44 and watched it dart into the air because of the recoil. I can keep an AK 47 level during constant fire but in other games it is so tough because of to much CS.

Here are some links to WOLF ET, the blueyonder server is pretty fast if your in the United Kingdom, I got around 62 k/s for that server. It saves waiting in a fileplanet que for hours though. Most of the stuff on fileplanet is available from elsewhere faster, just need to look.

http://www.fly-swarm.com/

Hint: if your looking for a file and know the filename use google to hunt it down. For example if i'm looking for this file I type "inurl:wolfet.exe" without the inverted commas into google and it will find any page related to that file in a link. Google is a very versatile tool if you know how to use it.

Not that I'm insulting you..

I find that "The best feild ops" don't know how to shoot a gun properly. Then only know how to throw a grenade, or aim with their binocs.

Are you the exception that proves the rule?

Lol...

Counter Strike is complete trash. It is a cheater's haven. It's built on an engine that is at least 6 years old, which it itself is built on another engine which is still another year or so older than it is. It's graphics are complete crap, and has poor gameplay, the reason why most of the people who play cs play it is because of it's very low system requirements, it will work on just about most computers, and because it is very easy to cheat.

Ok try getting 1140XP on 3 maps WITHOUT using the grenade thingy (where you throw it).

I use the gun, im good at shooting. And i will own you any time, mate.

P.s

Highest fragger may also proove something?

WTF, how come everyone refers to that as some kind of official ET download page?
I didn't know the FLY site was so popular

In Canada "these" are quotation marks and this' is an apostraphe (spell?). Apostraphes are generaly used to denote the removal of a letter in an abreviation as in don't. I beleive we use a different name for them when, "a person quotes someone 'during' speech."

Lol...

The correct way (you know, in America)...

Comma: Hello, my name is Apostrophe: Don't
Single Quote: 'Single Quote'
Double Quote: "Double Quote"
Period: End of a sentence. (but only occurs once a month.)
