I exploited the site making multiple emails from cjb.net which forwarded to my primary email. I made 100 emails, so yeah, I do have a lot of time on my hands.

I miss the days when Gamespy wasnt clogged with n00bs and n00b clans, I took a little poll, like 50% said they havent been playing for over 5 months, 25% said they played for more then 5 months, and the rest were n00bs in denial like one guy said, "I've been playing Renegade since the beta demo came out, yur the n00b, Im a 1337 hxor, arg fear me im a big nerd!"

Thats not what makes you a nerd.

Lots of people know a lot about computers and technology...but thats not what makes you a nerd.

You are a nerd when you have no friends, you camp outside the cinema for the nest Star Wars movie, you think shoving things up your nose is cool, and when your one and only friend is your computer.
