Why does your sig have an F-15 Eagle, but it says "Sting of the Hornet"?

Wouldn't it make more sense to have an F-18 Hornet in your sig?

Just curious

Because I made up the saying... It's a way of describing what happens when I'm airborne in Renegade. When you play with me, you'll see.

Oh...

So why the Eagle? Why not a Hornet to match the saying?

I'm one of the few that have survived when Ack is airborne.

I entered a game, bought a Havoc, walked out of the Weapons Factory and suddenly an Apache misses crushing me by a hair's length.

I've never blindly stepped out of a building since.

Oh, so you try and land on people?

Wouldn't it be more effecient to shoot them?

I usually shoot things up - if I can't kill them that way, I land on them quickly and ensure that they die.

Not the last time we played => I remember it vividly! You tried to crush me on walls with your Apache, it was slain, and I was slain simotaneously with you by YOUR C4 ;P
