I know I'm just generalizing here, but I can't seem to get away from stupid idiots. I encounter them everywhere, at work, at school, on the road, during recreation, on message boards, everywhere. I overhear people talking about their dumbass decisions who are actually bragging about them. People get in my way all the time. They can't type out a complete sentence or use capital letters. They drink away all their problems instead of solve them. They're completely self-centered and shallow. They have tons of biasies that they can't legitimately support for the life of them once you question them.

Sorry about the rant here, some days are worse than others and this one was a bad one. Feel free to talk about some recent encounters you've had with complete dumbasses. And please stay out if you are a dumbass yourself (you use "1337speak, abbreviate with numbers, or spam all the time because you have no life and nothing better to do).

In general I'd say about 70% of the human population consists of dumbasses.

I can't think of anything else to add. I will however present any recent encounters of dumbasses whenever I get the chance to. Feel free to do the same.

Oh yeah, one more thing, I hate John Kerry. He looks like a manipulative asshole, so he probably is one.

I was in a car with my dad, and some idiot turned out in front of us. He had his guitar in the back of his car, so when he stopped to avoid crashing, it slid up and scratched his seats.

Whenever I drive seems to be when most idiots are around me. People pulling out in front of me, people going 10 miles per hour below the speed limit, and whatever makes me mad. Today is an example, on a two-lane road, someone pulls out in front of me when there is NO ONE in the other lane. It's just amazing how many idiots there are out there.

I have another story that just happened today with an idiotic driver. On the same road as the one I experienced earlier, some moron decided to sneak his TRUCK in between my car and a jeep. He did not have much clearance, I would estimate that he had about 5' of clearance between both of my car and the jeep. If he would have hit his brakes just after he moved over, there would have been no doubt that there would have been an accident and since I would have technically hit him, I would have gotten the ticket.

Imdgr8oneby saying people are stupid idiots, you are saying people are smart...No... double negatives don't apply to everything, including this. They apply to grammar when using something meaning "not" twice. Such as, "I didn't do nothing" gramatically means "I did something" when most people interpret it as "I didn't do anything."

In the case of "stupid idiots," idiots are stupid by definition but adding the adjective "stupid" before idiots is simply redundant. That however does not cancel out the term idiots to suggest they're smart.

people who smoke are the biggest idiots, especially when im walking/sitting behind them.... i made a guy look real stupid a few days ago, i was walking through a car park with some friends and girls, and this guy breathed smoke out the window at one of the girls, so i walked past him, pulled the cigarette outta his hand, through it on the floor and said "dont fucking smoke, retard"

70%, no way. I'd say about 70% of people are pretty stupid, about 20% are incompetent, about 5% are the type of people that make you think "Is there something wrong with him?," and the remaining 5% consist of somewhat decent and intelligent people. And I think I was being nice with those numbers. There's absolutely no way that three out of ten people could be considered intelligent.

5%- Outstanding people, who go out of their way to help others.
10%- Just plain nice people, who will usually be in a good mood.
20%- People who are indifferent, and won't bother you if you don't bother them.
30%- Below average in intelligence and kindness, but at least it looks like they're trying.
20%- Morons who can't tell their ass from their eardrum.
10%- People who go out of their way to be assholes.
5%- People so low you wouldn't want to waste a bullet killing them.

I don't consider someone a stupid idiot just because they smoke, because I know a lot of smokers (and probably a lot of you smoke) and they're certainly not dumb.

Smoking itself is dumb though, a waste of time, money, and life. If you smoke and don't regret it in any fashion then you're a stupid idiot.

ahhhh...makes sense now. what a moron for 4 reasons.

1. Stealing a car.
  2. Stealing a car with a camera (whether or not he knew about it).
  3. Crashing the car
  4. Crashing the car without a seatbelt.

Its really that bad. Its not just me or any of us feeling superior or anything its sad though when I use a semi large word and people ask me what it means. This happens on a regular basis.

On the plus side I like to have a stupid friend at hand at all times. He makes me feel superior and is often times easy to please.

Unlike my other friend who is intelligent. He at his worst is an egotistical and controlling bastard. Who never wants to do anything and is hard as hell to please.

So smart people can be faggots.

My newest enocuter was from today. I'm in band, and i play percussion(quitting though), and everyone in percussion horse's around. Well these two guys thought it would be fun to chuck sticks, mallots, and claves at me. SO for about 20mis im batting away sticks and whatnot with my own mallot. AThen they started whipping them which hurt, so i started throwing back. After about 2 mins one kid picks up a water bottle and dumps it on my pants and makes it look like i pissed myself. Idiots like that should be shot

I put myself in the range of normal - intelligent. That might explain why I can appear to be somewhat intelligent online and also prove to be a fucking moron online.
